MacARTHUR'S OFFENSIVE HALTED

FROM LIONEL CRANE

Tokyo, Nov. 26. General MacArthur's great push to the Manchurian border has come to a halt. Reports which have just come in from the northwestern front show that the enemy has broken up the 2nd South Korean Corps, surrounded two American companies and appear to be about to launch a major attack in the Taechon area.

The only advance still being made on this front is in the extreme west at Chongju. The greatest threats at Tokchon, at the extreme east of the line where the 8th Army in the west and the 10th Corps in the east are the only units likely to be joined.

Here the Reds drove the South Koreans back 11 miles and recaptured the town. The official 8th Army bulletin says the situation in this area is obscure.

"Liberation" Still Not Accomplished

New Delhi, November 26. Ten thousand invading Chinese Communist troops began their eighth week in the frigid mountain fastness of Eastern, Tibet today, still short of their announced objective ---"liberation" of that almost defenceless land.

Why they have not accomplished their purpose is a mystery here. There has been no fresh information in days to indicate what is going on in the remote Himalayan coun-Many here believe the troops were halted on orders from Peking. But why such orders would be given was not explained. One report: here said the defending Tibetans were retiring so fast they virtually were guiding the Chinese to the capital at Linasa.

Some quarters here think the Chinese invaders are awaiting for the Lhasa government to succumb to fifth column activities by pro-Chinese monks. But most information here is that the Lhasa administration is stronger now than before the invasion of October 7. WEEK'S SILENCE

WORST STORM EVER

HARROWING TIME FOR NE AMERICA

Chicago, November 26. The great storm over the north-eastern US lost some of its striking force today but continued to jam activities of millions with a snow deluge.

The vast atmospheric disturbances was far from over, but it carned a designation by Bureau at New York as the most violent of its kind ever encountered in the northeastern quarter of the United States.

It has done millions of dollars in property damage. It has icaused more than 100 deaths. It thas virtually smothered traffic in Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Colum-Libus, and dozens of smaller cities. It has cut off electricity for more than 800,000 persons. It has suspended commerce and industry in some areas. It delayed until tomorrow a UN session at Lake Success which would have heard, for the first time, Red Chinese envoys.

On the east side of the storm, racing, rain-spilling smashed wires, trees, buildings and tens of thousands of windows yesterday. Farther west as the rain met cold air, it froze and turned into sleet, burdening power lines which snapped Tens of thousands of automobiles were stalled in drifts.

Trains were as much as five hours late,-Associated Press.

CANADA ALSO LASHED Montreal, Nov. 26.

The winter's worst storm lashed Eastern Canada tonight, leaving a toll of at least eight dead in Its wake and property damage which may exceed $2,000,000.

Peak gusts of 70 miles an hour hit Montreal, Quebec City and Southern Nova Scotia early today while winds at Halifax topped 60 miles an hour, Scores of ships scurried for shelter off the East Coast as the victous storm moved out into the Atlantic.

COMMENT OF THE DAY

THE report of the Commissioner of Police, published last week, deserves to be carefully studied by everybody, more especially those who seem to believe that law and order can be preserved in Hongkong through some magical official formula. More than once in the report the Commissioner refers to the lack of public co-operation in quick reporting of misdeeds, either actual or suspected, and he obviously infers, with some justification, that did the public offer his organisation more willing assistance, very many more criminals would be detected and much more stolen property recovered. The post-war record of the Hongkong Police Force is good, particularly when it is appreciated what a stupendous task it has in combatting the vast criminal underworld in the Colony. Detection technique is constantly being improved and there is no shortage of initiative or courage in any of the Force's echelons.

But our police still need, more than anything else, willing and enthusiastic aid from the Colony's law-abiding citizens. It is needed more now than ever before because, as the Commissioner's report wryly points out, the termination of such police linison which existed with the Kwangtung Police had given a fillip to non-preventable offences and has made these crimes comparatively simple. This means that our neighbouring police are no longer prepared to assist in preventing known criminals from secreting themselves apprehend them when they have

WASHINGTON BACKS BRITISH ATTIUDE CANAL DISPUTE

London, Nov. 26.

The United States agrees with Britain's decision to keep troops in the Suez Canal area and the Foreign Secretary, Mr Ernest Bevin, will make that known to the Egyptian Foreign Minister, Salah el Din Bey, informed quarters said today.

Salah el Din Bey was to arrive here on Monday after talks in Washington with the Secretary of State, Mr Dean Acheson.

A traditional recipe for making a good lawn was once given, it is said, to an overseas visitor at Oxford University, England. "First you sow the lawn," he was instructed, "then you cut and roll it for a thousand years." There are actually few greens in Britain which are more than 500 or 600 years old; but any gardener knows that only time and loving care will produce a first class lawn.

The best turf in Britain comes from the north of England where bowling greens, lawns and the like are unsurpassed. Lovely, matured and emerald-green in colour, it is frequently cut, rolled and transported to less fortunate parts of the country. much of it being obtained from wild, ralny, sea-washed and mountainous tracts of Cumberland.

For those, however, who are only interested in producing a lawn in the minimum of time, there is a special society which carries out intensive research into the science of lawn culture. Founded at the suggestion and with the support of leading golf clubs and societies, it is engaged in the whole question of pro-"ducing the best grass for all varieties of greens; for tennis courts, cricket pitches, bowling greens and many other purposes. Its research station is at Bingley, in the English county of Yorkshire, where 1,500 separate plots enable the scientists to study the effects of various fertilisers, weeds, diseases, treatments, and so forth so that good lawns and greens the world over may be produced cheaply and quickly.

I suppose I ought to have seen the ghosts of old friends, but I did not—the years had been too happy to leave ghosts behind-but I permitted myself the luxury of memories.

Court memories

The court was full of meimportant cases.

Memories of those little cases began to crowd back upon me; memories of the time when each case was vitally important and left a foot-mark on the road I had chosen: when each victory was perhaps a further step in long climb up the hill. Their details may be forgotten, but their memories will stay with me for ever.

But he was in the wrong place. I could have warned him that the Lord Chief Justice's court is not the place in which to learn his work.

He should have begun at the bottom, probably by devilling for someone else, in a case that did not matter, in a court he could not find.

Acute moment

It appeared that the War Cabinet had already assembled at 11.15 p.m. on August 7 to deal with my telegrams of that day, which had just been decoded. Discussion was still proceeding upon them when a secretary came in with my new messages, stating that Gott was dead and, secondly, asking that Gen. Montgomery should be sent out at once.

I have been told this was an acute moment for our friends in Downing Street. However, as I have several times observed, they had been through much and took it doggedly. They sat till nearly dawn, agreed in all essentials to what I had proposed, and gave the necessary orders about Montgomery.

Montgamery arters almost immediately, and all the civilities of a meeting of this kind between the commanders of armies of different nations woven into a single : enterprise had been discharged.

The very next morning, the 8th, Eisenhower had to be informed that Montgomery must fly that day to Cairo to command the Eighth; Army. This task also fell to Jamay. Eisenwas a broad-minded man, practical, serviceable, dealing with events, as they cool selficamess. Cairo, Aug. 8, 1942.

On June 23 you raised in your telegram to the C.I.G.S. the question of your being relieved in this Command, and you mentioned the name of Gen. Alexander as a possible successor. At that time of crisis to the Army his Majesty's Government dld not wish to avail themselves of your high-minded offer. At the same time you had taken over the effective command of the battle, as I had long desired and had suggested to you in my telegram of May 20: You stemmed the adverse, tide, and at the present time the front is stabilised.

Mind fixed

In the evening Jacob returned. Auchinleck had received this stroke with soldierly dignity. He was unwilling to accept the new command, and would come to see me the next day. Jacob's diary records:

between me and Gen. Auchinleck. C.I.G.S joined us...

The Prime Minister's mind i entirely fixed on the defeat of Rommel, and on getting Gen. Alexander into complete charge of the operations in the Western Desert. He does not understand how a man can remain in Cairo while great events are occurring in the Desert and leave the conduct of them to someone else.

He strode up and down declaiming on this point, and he means to have his way. "Rommel, Rommel, Romme Rommell" he cried. "What I else matters but beating

Directive -

Prime Minister to Gen. Ismay for those concerned.

I have given Gen. Alexander the following directive, which is most agreeable to him, and in which C.I.G.S. concurs:

Your prime and main duty will be to take or destroy at the earliest opportunity the German-Italian Army commanded, by Field - Marshal Rommel, together with all its supplies and establishments in Egypt and Libya.

"2. You will discharge or cause to be discharged such other duties as pertain to your Command; without prejudice to the task described in paragraph 1; which must be conpäramount Majesty's interests."

It may no doubt be possible in a later phase of the war to alter the emphasis of this directive, but I am sure that simplicity of task and singleness of aim are imperative

The French Took The Honours And The Money For The R.O. B.A. British Flat-racing

AMERICANS

London, Nov. 26.

The French took the honours and the money for the British flatracing season which has just ended. The Amerians may well do so in 1951, judging by the outstanding performers which the few American and the £20,000 King George V and Queen Elizabeth Festival owners racing in Britain have stabled over here.

The French provided the leading owner and breeder in the famous M. Marcel at Ascot. They produced the leading trainer in Charles Semblat, former jockey, who have been asked for from the nest charge of M. Boussac's large string. Boussac, the most powerful racehorse owner in the world today.

But the Americans provided the top pair of two-year-olds in the free handi-cap for horses of this age and the leading three-year-old. They were the juveniles winner, Comic Court, a worthy Big Dipper, owned by Mrs John Pryce, and Turco, owned by Mr William Woodward, and the latter's Prince Simon.

There is no game unless South strikes his partner, with a fairly good hand. If North has a good hand he will hasten LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)— to make a strong response

If North has a moderately strong hand, North and South may be able to out-bid their hand, the advantage of the double is that it allows North to bid his best suit immediately. This will probably be the 221 8s.
